

INAUGURATES A NEW BAR TOP FACILITY IN MEXICO

Supercap, part of Crealis and a leading player in the industry of closures for spirits, wine, oil, vinegar, and room fragrances, has officially opened a new manufacturing facility in Guadalajara, Mexico.

The new plant covers an area of 15,000 square meters and boasts an annual production capacity of 300 million bartop closures.

This new facility marks a strategic move to enhance the company's production capacity and respond even more effectively to the growing demands of the North American market. Thanks to advanced technologies, optimized production processes, and a relentless focus on quality, the new plant will ensure faster delivery times, providing a highly competitive service.

The production site is capable of producing a wide range of closures, including natural cork bartops, microgranule closures, technical materials, and screw bartops. All closures can be fully customized, offering tailored solutions in design and finishes, using premium materials such as wood and aluminum.

"We have invested in this project to be closer to our customers and provide them with custom solutions more quickly and efficiently" says Mirco Bannini, General Manager of Crealis' Bartop Division. "We reaffirm our commitment to delivering high-quality closures through modern and sustainable production processes."

With this expansion, Supercap strengthens its global presence and its ability to support brands and spirit producers in the North American market, offering innovative, high-performance solutions and ensuring timely deliveries.

ABOUT SUPERCAP

Supercap, founded in 1999, was a pioneer in introducing designer closures to the international market.

In 2022, it joined the Crealis Group, a global leader in closure solutions.

With production facilities in Italy, Mexico, and Portugal, Supercap offers a wide range of bartops made from natural cork, microgranules, and bio-based polymers.

Supercap's closures are crafted to elevate premium packaging, providing elegant, innovative solutions that meet the highest standards of both aesthetics and functionality. They are widely used in the wine, spirits, olive oil, vinegar, and home fragrance industries—sectors where quality and brand image are essential.

Driven by advanced R&D, Supercap delivers highly customized solutions in a competitive market where creativity and precision are key.

As a BRC-certified lean manufacturer, Supercap ensures exceptional product management and reliable lead times, allowing clients to focus on design while leaving the technical and logistical details in the hands of a globally trusted customer service team.
